Brendan McDonough was on the verge of becoming a hopeless, inveterate heroin addict when he, for the sake of his young daughter, decided to turn his life around. He enlisted in the Granite Mountain Hotshots, a team of elite firefighters based in Prescott, Arizona. On June 30, 2013, a freak, 3,000-degree inferno ultimately trapped his hotshot brothers, tragically killing all 19 of them. McDonough’s story of finding his way out of the dead end of drugs and the minute-by-minute account of the fateful day he lost the very men who had saved him was featured in Only the Brave (Oct. 2017).
